(I)　Text Book

Answers:　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　　(25 marks)

1- To make connections and predictions: Read the title and think about any connections you can make to the topic. Skim the part you will be reading to look for any visual aids like charts, pictures, and vocabulary. Use all of this information to form an opinion about what you think is likely to happen in the story, or what you think a non-fiction passage will be about.

2- You have to have evidence to support your opinion.

3- The benefit is that making predictions prepares your brain to receive the story or the information you are about to input by reading. It helps you focus your full attention on the reading especially if your predictions have sparked some related questions in your mind.

4- After finishing reading go back to your original predictions. See whether or not you were correct, and understand why you were incorrect if you were.
